DETAILED ACTION

This is in response to communication filed 02/07/05.

Applicant's arguments considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

1. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 10-4 and 19-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by D'Arlach et al. (US 6026433).

Regarding claim 10, D'Arlach discloses: In the page server coupled to a network, a method of providing a customized page to a user, wherein the customized page is customized according to the user's preferences (col. 2, lines 30-50, D'Arlach), the method comprising the steps of:

obtaining real-time information from information sources (as news in fig. 12 and corresponding text, D'Arlach);

storing the real-time information in a storage device (202, fig. 2 and corresponding text, D'Arlach);

storing a user specific template program for the user in a data structure indexed by a user identifier unique to the user (col. 6, lines 36 to 66, D'Arlach);

receiving, from the user and at the page server a user request for a customized page (col. 4, lines 29-50, D'Arlach), and determining a user identifier associated with the request (col. 10, lines 40-50, D'Arlach);

retrieving a stored template program specific to the user in the data structure using the determined user identifier associated with the request (col. 10, lines 40-50, D'Arlach);

providing the user with the customized page includes at least one item of real time information selected from the storage device (6, lines 36-44, D'Arlach).

executing the template program specific to the user using the real-time information stored in the storage device as input to the template program to generate the customized page, wherein the template program indicates items of interest to the user (col. 5, lines 46-65, D'Arlach).

As per claim 11, the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 10. Applicant's attention is directed to the rejection of claim 10 above. In addition, D'Arlach discloses further including prior to the step of receiving the user request the steps of caching the template program in a storage location local to the page server (col. 4, lines 1-51 and 202, fig. 2, D'Arlach).

Regarding claim 12, the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 10. Applicant's attention is directed to the rejection of claim 10 above. In addition, D'Arlach discloses: further comprising the step of receiving user preferences for the user, wherein the user preferences indicate the items of interest to the user and combining the user preferences with a generic template to form the template program specific to the user (see col. 6, lines 1-60, D'Arlach).

Regarding claim 13, the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 12. Applicant's attention is directed to the rejection of claim 12 above. In addition, D'Arlach discloses: further including the step of providing the template program specific to the user to the page server (col. 6, lines 61 to col. 7, lines 3, D'Arlach).

Regarding claim 14, the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 12. Applicant's attention is directed to the rejection of claim 12 above. In addition, D'Arlach discloses: wherein the page server performs the step of combining the user preferences with the generic template (col. 6, lines 44-60, D'Arlach).

Regarding claim 19, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1. In addition, D'Arlach discloses: obtaining user preferences for the plurality of users, wherein a user's user preferences indicate items of interest to that user (fig. 6, col. 6, lines 1-20, D'Arlach); each of the plurality of users, combining the user preferences for a specific user and a template to form a template program specific to the user at the page server (col. 4, lines 59 -67, D'Arlach).

Regarding claim 20, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1 above. In addition, D'Arlach discloses: a second template program specific to the second user (col. 4, lines 59 -67, D'Arlach) using the real time information stored in the storage device as input to the second template program to generate a second customized page for a second user (col. 4, lines 59 -67, D'Arlach).

Regarding claims 21-24, most the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejection of claims 13-18, and 20 above respectively. It is therefore rejected as set forth above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15-18 and 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over D'Arlach et al. (US 6026433) in view of Gerace (U.S 5848396).

Regarding claims 15 and 25, D'Arlach disclose all the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejection of claims 10 and 20 above, respectively. However D'Arlach didn't disclose: wherein the real-time information comprises stock quotes, sports scores and news headlines. On the other hand Gerace discloses: wherein the real-time information comprises stock quotes, sports scores and news headlines (see col. 6, lines 22-40, Gerace). Thus, at the time invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to include the steps wherein the real-time information comprises stock quotes, sports scores and news headlines in the system of D'Arlach as taught by Gerace. The motivation being to enable the system display real time information includes stock information, advertisements, sports statistics, weather reports and the like base on the user interest when create the user specific template.

Regarding claims 16 and 26, all the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejection of claims 10 and 20 above, respectively, In addition, D'Arlach/Gerace discloses: further comprising a step of generating a default user configuration for the user based on demographic information of the user (see col. 6, lines 5-7, Gerace).

Regarding claims 17 and 27, all the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejection of claims 16 and 26 above, respectively, In addition, D'Arlach/Gerace discloses: wherein the step of generating a default user configuration comprises the steps of: determining a default list of cities for a weather report based on user demographic information (see col. 8, lines 52-57, Gerace); and determining one or more sports teams for sports reporting based on user demographic information (see col. 8, lines 15-25, Gerace).

Regarding claims 18 and 28, all the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejection of claims 16 and 26 above, respectively, In addition, D'Arlach/Gerace discloses: wherein the steps of determining comprise the steps of: obtaining user postal code information (see col. 21, lines 41-43, Gerace); translating the postal code information to user geographic position (see col. 21, lines 41-49, Gerace); comparing the user geographic position to geographic positions assigned to each city (see col. 22, lines 10-12, Gerace); and sports team (see col. 21, lines 65 to col. 22, lines 5, Gerace); and determining a threshold distance from the user geographic position which is greater than or equal to a distance to a predetermined nonzero number of cities and a predetermined nonzero number of sports team geographic positions”(see col. 31, lines 2-7, Gerace).
